

1920

Trinity College Bulletin, 1919-1920 (Necrology)

Trinity College

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalrepository.trincoll.edu/bulletin>

Recommended Citation

Trinity College, "Trinity College Bulletin, 1919-1920 (Necrology)" (1920). Trinity College Bulletin. Book 78.
<http://digitalrepository.trincoll.edu/bulletin/78>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Trinity serial publications (1868 - present) at Trinity College Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Trinity College Bulletin by an authorized administrator of Trinity College Digital Repository.

VOLUME XVII

NEW SERIES

NUMBER 3

Trinity College Bulletin

NECROLOGY

1919-1920

HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

July, 1920

TRINITY COLLEGE BULLETIN

Issued quarterly by the College. Entered January 12, 1904, at Hartford, Conn., as second class matter, under the Act of Congress of July 16, 1894. The Bulletin includes in its issues: the College Catalogue, Reports of the President, Treasurer, and Librarian; Announcements and Circulars of Information.

Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3,
1917, authorized March 3, 1919

NECROLOGY

TRINITY MEN

Whose Deaths were Reported
During the Year

1919-1920

Hartford, Connecticut

July, 1920

PREFATORY NOTE.

This Obituary Record is the third issued, the plan of devoting the July issue of the Bulletin to this use having been adopted in 1918. The data here presented has been collected through the persistent efforts of the Treasurer of the College, who makes it his concern to secure and preserve as full a record as possible of the activities of Trinity men as well as anything else having value for the history of the College.

Readers who find it in their power to correct errors or to contribute further information will confer a great favor if they will at once communicate with the Treasurer, Edgar F. Waterman, Esquire. Material corrections and additions will be incorporated in the next issue of the Necrology.

Attention is particularly called to those alumni, for whose biographies we have only meagre data. It is hoped that relatives and friends may be able to supply additional information, so that an adequate record may be preserved.

ARTHUR ADAMS.

OBITUARY RECORD.

Edwin Cortlandt Bolles

Class of 1855.

Edwin Cortlandt Bolles was born in Hartford September 19, 1836. He was a son of Edwin Bolles and Mary Chapman his wife; the father was a manufacturer in Hartford.

Mr. Bolles received his preparation for College in the Hartford High School, and entered the Sophomore Class in Trinity College in 1852. In College he was a member of Beta Beta, later the Beta Beta Chapter of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, and of the Parthenon Society. He was distinguished for his scholarly attainments as an undergraduate. In his senior year he received Honors in Patristic Latin; he was Salutatorian of his Class at graduation; and received election to Phi Beta Kappa.

After graduation Mr. Bolles studied for the Ministry of the Universalist Church. After a short period of service in the ministry in Bridgeport, Connecticut, Dr. Bolles went to New Orleans as Pastor of a large church succeeding the Rev. Theodore Clapp, a noted Unitarian divine of the day. He remained in New Orleans till the outbreak of the Civil War. He came North and served as Chaplain of the First Maine Regiment throughout the War. For a time he was on the staff of General Grant.

After the War he went to Portland, Maine; during his pastorate here, the beautiful Congress Square Church was built. Later he was Pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity in New York for a period of nine years, erecting the present edifice. While pastor of a Church in Salem, Massachusetts, he formed a friendship with Walter Scott Dickson, who later endowed a Professorship of English and American History at Tufts College, stipulating that Dr. Bolles should be the first incumbent. At the time of the appointment as Dickson Professor at Tufts College in 1900 he was Pastor of the Universalist Church in Melrose, Massachusetts, and for some years, he continued to occupy the pulpit there.

In addition to his teaching at Tufts, Dr. Bolles was for a number of years Chaplain of the College. In 1912, he became blind, but still continued his duties, endearing himself ever more and more to faculty and students.

Dr. Bolles died of pneumonia January 11, 1920, greatly lamented and the funeral service was held in Goddard Chapel at Tufts College.

During his long life, Dr. Bolles was a prolific writer and speaker on many scientific and historical subjects. He lectured on Microscopy at Tufts and other colleges, and is said to be the first to use a screen as an aid in his lecture. He delivered three courses of lectures at the Lowell Institute in Boston.

He was for a time, 1870-1873, a member of the Faculty of St. Lawrence University, giving instruction especially in Microscopy. From St. Lawrence he received the degree of Ph. D. in 1860, having received the degree of M. A. from Trinity in 1859. In 1880, he received the degree of D. D. from Tufts College, and in 1905 Trinity honored him with the degree of LL. D.

Dr. Bolles was a member of many literary and scientific societies both at home and abroad, and was a Trustee of Tufts College for many years.

Dr. Bolles was twice married: first, in 1855 to Mary D. Waters of Hartford, and second in 1862 at Portland, Maine, to Margaret A. Barstow. There were three children: Eleanor Kennedy Bolles, who married Albert Hart; Cortlandt Kimball Bolles, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, who married Gertrude Bolles and died in 1905; and Margaret Chapman Bolles.

George Cleveland Hicks

Class of 1856.

George Cleveland Hicks was born in Rutland, Vermont, April 20, 1836. He was a son of the Rev. John Augustus Hicks and Lucy his wife. The father was a distinguished and beloved Priest of the Diocese of Vermont. He was graduated from Columbia College in 1823; received the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Trinity College in 1852; and the degree of S. T. D. from the University of Vermont in 1847. Other members of the family who have graduated from the College are William Cleveland Hicks, a brother, of the class of 1848, James Milnor Hicks, another brother, of the class of 1854, and the Rev. William Cleveland Hicks '91, and DeForest Hicks '96, nephews. William Cleveland Hicks, Jr., a grand-nephew, is at present an undergraduate.

Mr. Hicks was graduated B. A. with the Class of 1856, and was a "Senior Grecian". He was a member of the Beta Beta of Psi Upsilon.

After graduation, Mr. Hicks engaged in business. For some years he was in the dry goods business in New York. From 1870 to 1878, he was President of the Baltimore Retort and Fire Brick Company, and from 1878 to 1890, President of the Chicago Fire Brick Company. From 1890 to 1897, he was manager for Fisk, Coleman & Company, of Boston. The latter years of his life were spent in relative retirement, though he maintained relations with many business concerns, among them the Sefton Manufacturing Corporation of Chicago.

He was a member of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and of the Chess Club in Chicago. As a young man, he served as Clerk of the Vermont Legislature, and was a veteran of the Civil War. He was all his life a faithful communicant of the Episcopal Church.

Mr. Hicks wrote a number of articles on clays and related subjects, published in the technical journals, and took out many patents on various articles.

In 1865 he married Josephine Mali, of Brooklyn, New York, a daughter of Hippolyte Mali, a cloth merchant, and his wife Amy Hicks. The children were: Amy Mali, born January 3, 1866, educated abroad, unmarried; George Cleveland, Jr., born February 8, 1867, a graduate of Cornell University with the degree of M. E. in the Class of 1890. He served during the world War as a Major in the Ordnance Department, and lives in St. Louis.

Mr. Hicks died February 25, 1920, and is buried in Grace-land Cemetery, Chicago, Illinois.

Hamilton MacMillan

Class of 1856.

Hamilton MacMillan, son of William and Ann (Peterson) MacMillan was born near Fayetteville, Cumberland County, North Carolina, August 29, 1837. His father was a farmer and teacher, and lived near Hope Mills, North Carolina.

Mr. MacMillan entered the Sophomore Class of Trinity College in September, 1853, having received his preparation at Hope Mills and St. Paul's, North Carolina, remaining only one year. He was a member of Alpha Delta and of the Athenaeum Society. In a letter dated in March, 1912, he says "It is fifty-eight years since I left Trinity College, and often in recurring to that date, I regret that I made the change. Great political excitement prevailed owing to the enforcement of the Fugitive Slave Law in Boston—in the Anthony Burns case. I am now nearly seventy-five years of age, and still actively engaged in professional duties. I hope to live long enough to visit Hartford again."

After leaving Trinity, Mr. MacMillan entered the University of North Carolina, graduating in 1857 with the degree of B. A. He received the M. A. degree in 1860. During the Civil War, he served in Company F, 1st North Carolina Volunteers (1861); in Company G, 6th State Troops, as a Private (1862 to 1865). In 1865 he received his commission as Captain of Infantry; he was taken prisoner March 10, 1865.

After the War, Mr. MacMillan studied Law, and was admitted to the Bar at Wilmington, North Carolina, in 1867. In 1869, he formed a Law partnership with Johnson R. Hargrave. From that time to his death, he practised Law, though at intervals he taught school, engaged in journalistic work, farming, and in the lumber business. He made his home most of the time in Red Springs, North Carolina.

Mr. MacMillan was a member of the Scottish Society of America; of Camp Ryan, United Confederate Veterans; and for a time was a Trustee of the University of North Carolina. He was a member of the House of Representatives of the North Carolina Legislature from 1885 to 1889. Mr. MacMillan was a communicant of the Episcopal Church. In 1888 he published a book entitled "Sir Walter Raleigh's Lost Colony," of which a second edition was published by Broughton & Co., of Raleigh in 1908.

February 27, 1863, at West Brook, Bladen County, North Carolina, he married Elizabeth Gillespie Robeson, daughter of John Alexander Robeson, a farmer of West Brook, and his wife Eliza Street Gillespie. The children were: William Graham, born February 12, 1866, graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1887, and died July 7, 1890; Mary Eliza, born July 2, 1868, graduated from the Southern Presbyterian College at Red Springs, North Carolina, from the State Normal School at Greeneboro, North Carolina, and from Teachers' College, Columbia University, in 1911; John Robeson; Jane Robeson; and Cornelia Spencer.

Mr. MacMillan died at Red Springs, North Carolina, February 27, 1916, and is buried there.

Eben Greenough Scott

Class of 1857.

Eben Greenough Scott was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, June 15, 1836, a son of William Boyce Scott and Susan Israel Greenough. The father was a graduate of Kenyon College and studied Law, but died young.

Mr. Scott received his preparation for College at the Episcopal High School of Virginia, and at the Jones School at Bridgeport, Connecticut. He became a member of the Class of 1857, entering the Sophomore year. He was a member of the I. K. A. Fraternity.

In 1855 he entered Yale. There he became a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Scull and Bones, graduating with the degree of B. A. in 1858. In 1863 he received the M. A. degree.

After graduation from College, he studied Law, and was admitted to the Bar in Philadelphia in 1860.

During the Civil War, he served as First Lieutenant of Battery C, 5th Regiment of Artillery. He was a member of the Loyal Legion of Pennsylvania, and of the G. A. R.

The greater part of his life after the War was spent in the practice of Law in Wilkes-Barre, where he attained great eminence.

Mr. Scott was also the author of several books and of many articles in the Atlantic Monthly and other periodicals. Among his books may be mentioned: The Intestate Laws of Pennsylvania; The Development of Civil Liberty in the English Colonies in America (Putnam); Reconstruction During the Civil War (Houghton).

February 12, 1863, in Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia, Mr. Scott married Elizabeth Woodward of Wilkes-Barre, a daughter of George W. Woodward, Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, and his wife Sarah Elizabeth Trott. There were two sons, both of whom died young. George Woodward, born December 14, 1863, and died February 20, 1871, and William, born June 24, 1873, and died December 16, 1875.

Mr. Scott died at Wilkes-Barre, July 5, 1919, and is buried there.

He was a member of the American Historical Society; of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania; of the Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania; of the National Geographic Society; and of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He was a member of the Westmoreland Club of Wilkes-Barre; of the Rittenhouse Club of Philadelphia; and of the Montmorenci Fishing Club of Canada.

The Reverend George McClelland Fiske, of the Class of 1870, married Mary Greenough Walker, of Burlington, New Jersey, a cousin of Mr. Scott's.

John Burr Sturges

Class of 1861.

John Burr Sturges, who was for two years a member of the Class of 1861, was born July 5, 1838, in New York City, a son of Samuel Burr Sturges and his wife, Elizabeth Marvin. The father was a farmer and lived at Cannondale, Connecticut. Mr. Sturges married at Wilton, Connecticut, December 29, 1870, Helen E., daughter of Sherman P. and Sarah M. (Jones) Fitch. There were five children: Florence Marvin, born September 13, 1871; Samuel Burr, born March 9, 1874; Mabel Fitch, born October 20, 1877; Fred Sherman, born June 26, 1880, and Helen Elizabeth, born December 27, 1886.

Mr. Sturges was a farmer, and lived at Cannondale, Connecticut. He was a Democrat and an Episcopalian. He held at various times several Town offices. He died June 17, 1919, at Weston, Connecticut, and is buried at Wilton, Connecticut.

Jerome Gill Atkinson

Class of 1864.

Jerome Gill Atkinson was born in New York City, August 19, 1843; he was a son of John Paxton Atkinson and Mary Brown Rathbone. His father was a merchant in New York.

Mr. Atkinson was prepared for College by the Rev. S. Stebbins Stocking of Orange, New Jersey, and entered Trinity College with the Class of 1864 in September, 1860. At Trinity he became a member of the Delta Psi Fraternity.

He remained only one year at Trinity, entering Columbia in the fall of 1861. He remained in the College only a year, entering the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1862.

During the year 1862-63, he served as private and corporal in the 22nd Regiment, N. Y. S. M. and N. Y. N. G. During the year 1864-65 he was an Acting Assistant Surgeon in the Union Army. He cherished his Army connections, and was long Adjutant of James Monroe Post No. 607, Department of New York, G. A. R.

In 1876, Mr. Atkinson received the degree of M. D. from the University of the City of New York, and from this time till 1906, he was engaged in the practice of medicine. From 1906 to his death, he was Cashier and Office Manager for a law firm in New York City.

Dr. Atkinson was twice married: first, December 20, 1870, to Kate McDonald, daughter of Benjamin Augustus McDonald, a merchant of New York and New Jersey, and his wife Ann Elizabeth Harrison, and second, June 11, 1902, to Julia A. Imlay, daughter of Alexander Fullerton Imlay, a merchant of New York, and Anne Hamilton, his wife. The children were Juliette Paxton, born April 15, 1872, who married Harry G. Hickey, May 21, 1904; Kathleen Gill, born November 15, 1875, who married in November, 1903, George P. Richardson; and Dorothy Valleau, born May 2, 1904.

Dr. Atkinson was an independent in politics, was a member of the Masonic order, of the United Workmen, and of the Kings County Medical Society; he was a loyal communicant of the Episcopal Church.

He contributed several articles to medical publications. He died March 22, 1920.

George Alden Vibbert

Class of 1864.

George Alden Vibbert was born in New Haven, Connecticut, February 18, 1842, a son of the Rev. Dr. William Elisha Vibbert and his wife, Mary Esther Cooke. Mr. Vibbert belonged to a family numerous and prominent among the alumni of the College. The Rev. Dr. William Elisha Vibbert, his father, received an honorary M. A. in 1850; the Rev. Thomas Stanley Judd, a great uncle, was a member of the Class of 1832; the Rev. Dr. William Henry Vibbert '58, and Howard Cooke Vibbert, '68, were brothers; William Walsh Vibbert '94, and Aubrey Darrell Vibbert '99, were nephews.

Mr. Vibbert was prepared for College at the Episcopal Academy at Cheshire, Connecticut, and entered Trinity College in September, 1860 with the Class of 1864. He remained only one year, entering the Class of 1864 at Yale. But he abandoned College to enter the Union Army. He served for three years as a Sergeant in the First Regiment, Connecticut Heavy Artillery. He was a member of the G. A. R. in later years.

After the war, Mr. Vibbert studied Architecture, and became a Contracting Builder in Danbury in 1866. He carried on this business until his retirement in 1905. December 24, 1867, at Fair Haven, Connecticut, he married Sarah Frances White, daughter of George and Louisa (Squires) White of Danbury. Mr. White was a Civil Engineer, and for a time was employed in Panama. The children were: Mary Frances, born September 18, 1868; William Howard, born in 1869; Howard Thomas, born October 12, 1871, died February 29, 1872; Julia, born January 12, 1873, died July 30, 1873; William Harry, born March 7, 1877; George White, born August 12, 1879; Alice Cooke, born August 8, 1881; Walter Clement, born September 13, 1883; and John Howard, born August 7, 1888.

Mr. Vibbert died September 11, 1919, at Danbury, Connecticut, and is buried there. Like the other members of his family, he was all his life a faithful communicant of the Episcopal Church.

Henry Swift

Class of 1869.

Henry Swift was born in Easton, Pennsylvania, September 21, 1848, a son of Edward and Hannah (Robeson) Swift. The father was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and was a Physician in Easton.

Major Swift was prepared for College at the Easton High School, and entered Lafayette College. Here he became a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity. He entered the Class of 1869 at Trinity in the Sophomore year, and was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1869. He was a member of the Athenaeum Literary Society. In 1872 he received the M. A. degree.

He spent the first three years after graduation as a student in the Berkeley Divinity School, and was graduated in 1872. He was ordained Deacon by Bishop Williams May 21, 1872, in Middletown. He was ordained Priest by Bishop Hare in 1877.

From 1872 to 1887 he was a Missionary at the Cheyenne River and Standing Rock Sioux Indian Reservation.

His work so commended itself to the Army officers with whom he came in contact that at their suggestion, he decided to enter the Army as a Chaplain. He was Chaplain successively at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, the Military Prison, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, Fort Supply, Oklahoma, Fort Logan, Colorado, and Fort Russell, Wyoming.

During the Spanish War, he served with distinction. He was in the battles of July 1, 2, 3, and of the 10th and 11th, with the 22nd Infantry, and was slightly wounded in the knee at the battle of Santiago. He received honorable mention for his gallant conduct at Santiago.

He was the only Chaplain who volunteered for service in the yellow fever plague in Cuba, and was sent to the hospital at Ciboney, serving there with General Gorgas from July 14 to August 30, 1898, when the Camp was broken up. Surgeon General Ireland highly commended Chaplain Swift for his services. He served also as Chaplain at the Detention Hospital at Montauk Point, Long Island.

Soon after the Spanish War, he was sent to the Philippines. Here he served with distinction till his retirement in 1912, being promoted to the rank of Major in 1904. He prepared a work during the period entitled "A Study of the Iloio Language" that was published by the Government.

After his retirement, he came home by way of Panama, Central and South America, a four month's trip.

May 1, 1913, he became Rector of old St. Pater's Church, Plymouth, Connecticut. The church edifice had been destroyed by fire, but through his efforts a new church was erected. He also had charge of St. Matthew's at East Plymouth and of St. Mark's at Terryville.

Suffering from advancing years and heart trouble, he gave up his work at Plymouth about two years before his death. He died suddenly of valvular disease of the heart January 14, 1920, in the house in which he was born in Easton, while on a visit to a brother and sister.

Major Swift was an accomplished linguist reading fluently and speaking some eight or nine languages, including Philippine dialects. He translated many articles on technical military subjects for the "Service Magazine" and during the War did good service as a reader and translator for the Government. He wrote frequently for publications, contributing from time to time articles to the Nation, the Churchman, the Living Church, the Army and Navy Journal, the St. Louis Globe Democrat, etc.

He was a member of the Oriental Society of America; of the Army and Navy Clubs in Washington and Manila; he was a 32nd degree Mason; and was a member of the Order of Foreign Wars, and of the Society of the Army of Santiago.

October 4, 1875, at St. John's Mission, Cheyenne River Agency, South Dakota, he married Matilda Ann Hays, a daughter of Thomas Hays, a Banker of Allegheny, Pennsylvania, and his wife, Margaret Spencer. There were two children, both of whom died young: Henry Thomas, born August 31, 1876, died September 10, 1909, and Francis Joseph, born November 13, 1878, died January 31, 1893.

Major Swift was a brave, faithful, and deservedly popular Officer, and the College may well take satisfaction in his record of long and honorable service.

William Drayton

Class of 1871.

Word has been received of the death of William Drayton, of the Class of 1871, a prominent lawyer of Philadelphia, on February 27, 1920. It is hoped that a more adequate account may be presented later.

William Drayton entered Trinity College with the Class of 1871, and was a distinguished student. He received Honors in Latin in his Sophomore year; Honors in Greek and Latin in his Junior year; and was graduated A. B. with Honors in Ethics and Metaphysics. He was Editor of the Trinity Tablet in 1871, and was a member of the Beta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon.

He taught school at Kittanning, Pennsylvania, during the year 1871-1872; and was a Master at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, during the year 1872-1873. During the years 1873-1875, he was a student of Law (University of Pennsylvania) in Philadelphia, and was admitted to the Bar in January, 1875. From that time to his death, he was active in the practice of Law in Philadelphia, and attained distinction at the Bar.

He married in St. Mark's Church, Philadelphia, on Thursday, April 15, 1880, Edith Newbold Welsh, daughter of the late William Welsh, Esquire, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Drayton was ever a loyal Trinity man, and was for many years active in the work of the Philadelphia Association of the Alumni.

The Reverend William James Harris

Class of 1872. (honorary)

The Reverend William James Harris, who received the honorary degree of S. T. D. from Trinity College in 1872, died in Nashua, New Hampshire, June 22, 1917.

Dr. Harris was graduated from Yale in the Class of 1856, and received the M. A. degree from the same institution in 1859. He entered the Congregational Ministry, but becoming an Episcopalian, he was ordained Deacon in 1865 by Bishop Eastburn and Priest in 1866 by Bishop Chase.

For a time, he was an Instructor in the Cambridge Divinity School, but the greater part of his life till his retirement in 1907 was spent as Rector of Episcopal Parishes. He was Rector of Grace Church, Manchester, New Hampshire; of Christ Church, Montpelier, Vermont; Trinity Church, Rutland, Vermont; Christ Church, Detroit, Michigan; Christ Church, Yankton, South Dakota; Dean of Calvary Cathedral, Sioux Falls, South Dakota; St. Paul's Church, Boston; and Christ Church, Hyde Park, Massachusetts; and of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Barre, Vermont. He was twice a Deputy to the General Convention from the Diocese of Michigan and once from the Diocese of Vermont; twice President of the Michigan Diocesan Convention; and a member of the Standing Committee in that Diocese. He was also President of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of South Dakota.

He was author of The Bible and the Church and of Nain, a Sermon in Metre, and was for thirteen years editor of the Mountain Echo.

He died full of years, and honored and respected by all.

Jay Clarence Deuel

Class of 1878.

Jay Clarence Deuel was born in Wisconsin, January 16, 1856. He was a son of Jacob Bockee Deuel, a lawyer in Wisconsin, and his wife Hannah E. Scott. The father was a graduate of Union College in the Class of 1848 and died in the Civil War. Several members of the family have been connected with the College. An uncle, Silas J. Deuel, of Pine Plains, New York, was a member of the Class of 1856. A brother, Newton Scott Deuel, was for a time a member of the Class of 1878, and the Rev. Charles E. Deuel '87, of Santa Barbara, California, is also a brother.

Mr. Deuel entered Trinity College in 1874, with the Class of 1878, giving his residence as Pine Plains, New York, the old home of the family. He was graduated in 1878 with the degree of B. S.

After graduation, he entered business life, and after a number of years entered the service of the Wells Fargo Express Company. He was employed in their offices in San Francisco and New York City for several years. Later, indeed until his death, he was in charge of a Department for this Company in Chicago.

Mr. Deuel married at Elba, Nebraska, November 30, 1892, Frances Wellman, a daughter of Samuel M. Wellman, Postmaster at Elba, and his wife Elizabeth A. Marshall. There were five children: Samuel M. born 1893, died 1904; Jacob N. born in 1895; Elizabeth, born in 1899; Philip born in 1901 and died in infancy; and Jay C., Jr., born in 1904 and died in 1906. The son Jacob N., called "Jack," enlisted with the Marines the very day war was declared. After taking part in some of the heaviest fighting and being severely wounded, he reached home shortly before his father's death, it being his father's dearest wish to see him before the end came. Mr. Deuel's death resulted indirectly from a street car accident, and after a long illness, he died August 21, 1919, at his home in Oak Park, Illinois, and was buried at Omaha, Nebraska. The son "Jack" is living in Omaha, Nebraska, with his sister Elizabeth.

Wellington James Rodgers

Class of 1880.

News of the death of Wellington James Rodgers, of the Class of 1880, has been received at the College Office, but neither the date of his death nor adequate data for an account of his life are at hand. It is hoped that a fuller biography may be presented later.

Mr. Rodgers entered College in 1876 as a Partial Student. His home was in Hartford, and his father was H. J. Rodgers of 42 Wooster Street. He was a charter member of the Chapter of D. K. E. at Trinity. He left College in March, 1878, but returned the next October, and was honorably dismissed at Commencement in 1880.

November 27, 1882, he married in Christ Church, Hartford, Miss Mary Rose Tudor, of Hartford.

Mr. Rodgers was a lawyer, and his last address was Los Angeles, California.

Alexander Taylor Mason

Class of 1881.

Alexander Taylor Mason was born at Westerly, Rhode Island, June 15, 1859. He was a son of the Rev. Arthur Mason, a graduate of the Berkeley Divinity School in the Class of 1857, who received the honorary degree of M. A. from Trinity College in 1862. His mother was Amelia Caroline Taylor.

Mr. Mason received his preparation for college chiefly in the schools of France and Switzerland. In this way, he early acquired his love for French culture and French literature, matters in which he retained an active interest throughout his life. He studied at the Lycée de Pau; Goretto's School, Nice; Prior's School, Vevey, Switzerland; and the Gymnase of the University of Geneva.

He entered Trinity College in October 1878 as a member of the Class of 1881. He was a member of the I. K. A. Fraternity, and on the founding of the Sigma Chapter of Delta Phi in 1917, he became a member. He was President of the College Boat Club, 1879-81; President of the Chess Club, 1879-80; Manager of the Baseball Club, 1880-81; Captain of the Cricket Team, 1880-81; Chairman of the German Club, 1880-81; Manager of the Glee Club, 1880-81; Stage Manager of the Hartford Amateur Opera Company, 1879-81. He was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1881, with Honors in English, and in Mental, Moral, and Political Philosophy. In 1884 he received the M. A. degree, and in 1907 he was elected an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa. In 1898 he was elected a Senior Fellow, and served for many years in this capacity. From 1902 to 1905, he was President of the New York Alumni Association.

After graduation from College, he entered the Law School of Columbia University, and was graduated with the degree of LL. B. in 1883. He had entered the Law Office of Elihu Root and Willard Bartlett as a clerk in 1881, and began practice with this firm on his admission to the Bar in 1883. He was Managing Clerk of the firm till 1886, when he became a member of the firm of Daly, Hoyt, and Mason. This connection lasted during the rest of his life.

Mr. Mason was active in New York political affairs from 1885 to 1910. He was Republican Leader of the 29th District; Delegate to New York State Convention in 1904; a member of the New York City Civil Service Commission from 1899 to 1903; a member of the Charter Revision Commission in 1900; Deputy Attorney-General of the State of New York from 1904 to 1906; and Chairman of the Law Committee of the Republican Organization of the County of New York in 1906.

He was Second Lieutenant of Company H, 8th Regiment, New York National Guard in 1886, and from 1886 to 1891 Captain of Company C, 8th Regiment. He was long a Vice-President of the Veteran Association of the Regiment.

Mr. Mason was much interested in the encouragement of the study of French in the United States. He was a member of the France-American Society; the Federation de l'Alliance Française aux Etats Unis et au Canada; and of Alliance Française de New York. He organized the Cercle Dramatique de l'Alliance Française in 1905. In 1908 he was made a Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur by the French Government, and was promoted to be an Officer de la Legion d'Honneur, January 1, 1919.

Mr. Mason was a member of the American Bar Association, the New York Bar Association, the New York County Lawyers'

Association; a life member of the American Geographical Society; and Patron of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He was a member of the Century Association, the MacDowell Club, The University Club, the Dunlop Society, the Down Town Association, the National Republican Club, the Civil Service Reform Association, and was an Incorporator of the Five Points House of Industry, and of the Church Mission of Help. He was a life-long communicant of the Episcopal Church. He organized the Amateur Comedy Club in 1884.

June 15, 1912, he married Susanne McKee Lee, daughter of the late Colonel Timothy F. Lee and Blanche Venetia Lee. There were two children: Maida Lee, born November 18, 1913, and Jonathan, born February 19, 1916.

Mr. Mason died at Premium Point, New Rochelle, New York, June 11, 1920. He had been in failing health for some two or three years.

In the death of Mr. Mason, the College loses one of its most distinguished alumni and a loyal and devoted friend. He was a man of the highest character, a distinguished lawyer, and devoted to all good works.

Frank William Owen

Class of 1884.

Frank William Owen was born in Albany, New York, September 1, 1860, a son of Ephraim Owen and Amelia M. Riggs. The father was a Civil Engineer and contractor of Boonville, New York.

Mr. Owen was prepared for College at the Riverside Military Academy, Poughkeepsie, New York, and entered Trinity College in September, 1881 as a member of the Class of 1885. He was President of his Class the Freshman year, and was a member of the Delta Psi Fraternity. On account of illness he was obliged to leave College toward the close of his Sophomore year.

Mr. Owen was by occupation a scientific farmer and a breeder of Holstein cattle.

He was a Republican in politics, and was a Vestryman of Trinity Church, Boonville, New York. He was a member of the St. Anthony Club and the Calumet Club, New York; of the Fort Schuyler Club, Utica; of Boonville Lodge, No. 165, F. and A. Masons; Acme Hose Company, of the Boonville Fire Department; of the Boonville Fire Association; and of the Holstein Breeders' Association.

March 29, 1913, Mr. Owen contracted pneumonia in New York City, and died April 4, 1913, at Boonville, where he was buried. Mr. Owen was unmarried.

The Reverend William Cleveland Hicks

Class of 1891.

William Cleveland Hicks was born at Summit, New Jersey, January 31, 1866. He was a son of William Cleveland Hicks, a graduate of Trinity College in the Class of 1848, and his wife, Emily Norwood De Forest, a graduate of the Troy Female Seminary (Emma Willard School). The father was a scientific expert in patent cases and lived at Summit, New Jersey. Many of the Hicks' family have been associated with Trinity College. Mr. Hicks' grandfather, Dr. John Augustus Hicks, received the honorary degree of M. A. in 1852. His uncles James Milnor Hicks and George Cleveland Hicks were members of the Classes of 1854 and 1856 respectively. His brother DeForest Hicks was a member of the Class of 1896, and his son William Cleveland Hicks is a member of the Junior Class in the College.

Mr. Hicks was prepared for College at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, and entered Trinity College in September 1887 with the Class of 1901. He received Honors in English in his Freshman year and was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1891. In College, he was a member of the Beta Beta Chapter of Psi Upsilon, and was Class Day President of his Class at graduation.

In September after graduation, he entered the General Theological Seminary in New York City, and was graduated in 1894, receiving the M. A. degree from the College the same year.

He was ordained Deacon in St. Mark's Church, West Orange, New Jersey, May 24, 1894, and Priest December 26, 1894, by Bishop Starkey. It is said that he was the thirty-third of his family in ten generations to take Holy Orders. He began his ministry as a missionary of the Elizabeth Islands, Duke's County, Massachusetts, serving here five years. From 1899 to 1906, he was Curate of St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York City. While here, through his work with St. Agnes' Church School, he laid in large measure the foundation for the work of the General Board of Religious Education. In 1906, he became Rector of Emmanuel Church, Cumberland, Maryland. While here, from 1907 to 1909, he was Archdeacon of Cumberland, from 1908 to 1916, Trustee of the Maryland Cathedral Foundation. In 1917, he became a member of the Cathedral Staff. In 1910, he was elected an Alternate to the General Convention, and in 1916 was a Deputy to the General Convention from the Diocese of Washington. In 1916 he was elected Secretary of the Province of Washington, and through his incessant labor and statesmanlike vision, he made the Province a real factor in the work of the Church. He served as a Trustee of the General Theological Seminary from 1907 to 1919, and was a member of the General Board of Religious Education from 1910-1913.

Mr. Hicks was a Trustee of St. James School, St. James, Maryland, and from 1889 to 1897, was Head Master of Bayside Summer School for Boys at Vineyard Haven, Massachusetts. He wrote numerous articles for Church periodicals on Sunday School Topics, and contributed occasionally to Religious Education. He published in 1894 a chart of Religious Education and Curriculum.

In St. John's Church, St. John, New Brunswick, November 17, 1897, he married Miss Jennie Margaret Hughes, daughter of the Reverend Benjamin N. Hughes, of Frederickton, New Brunswick, a Baptist Minister and his wife, Margaret Good. The children were Emily Margaret and William Cleveland, born in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, June 30, 1899, and Katharine DeForest, born in New York City, November 27, 1900, and died at Summit, New Jersey, September 14, 1901.

In 1915, Mr. Hicks suffered a nervous breakdown, from which he never entirely recovered. He died suddenly of acute indigestion on Saturday, April 17th, 1920, while in New York attending a meeting of the Board of Missions. The funeral services were held at St. Agnes' Chapel in New York, and the interment was in the family plot at Summit, New Jersey.

Mr. Hicks was a fine type of Priest. He was devout, spiritually minded, energetic, and foresighted. He was possessed of physical as well as moral courage as is shown by his defending a negro from a mob storming a jail to lynch him. In his death, the College and the Church lose a faithful and profitable servant.

Clarence Loines Hall

Class of 1892.

Clarence Loines Hall was born in Portland, Connecticut, December 17, 1871. He was a son of John Henry Hall and Sarah Garrett Loines; the father was President of the Colt Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Hall was prepared for College at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, and naturally decided to enter Trinity College. His grandfather Alfred Hall was a member of the Class of 1828, an uncle, Samuel Hall, was graduated in the Class of 1854, and Alfred Nelson and Oliver Gildersleeve, Jr. were cousins.

He entered the Sophomore Class in 1889, and was graduated with the degree of B. S. in 1892. He was a member of the Epsilon Chapter of Delta Psi.

After graduation Mr. Hall travelled extensively, and was engaged in business in Chicago and New Haven. Later he was associated with his father in the Colt's Company, but ill health prevented his taking any very active part in business during the later years of his life. He, however, was able to do effective charitable and War work. He was liberal but unostentatious in his good deeds, and was held in highest esteem by all who knew him. He was a man of wide reading and liberal culture, an accomplished musician, and an exemplary citizen.

Mr. Hall was a communicant of Trinity Church in Hartford. He was a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, the Sons of the American Revolution, the University Club, the Hartford Golf Club, and of the Farmington Country Club.

November 22, 1905, at the Church of the Holy Trinity in Philadelphia, Mr. Hall was married to Miss Elizabeth Coggsell Runk, daughter of William M. and Elizabeth Coggsell (Hill) Runk, of Philadelphia. There were no children.

Mr. Hall died July 27, 1919, at his home in Hartford, and was buried on July 29, 1919, in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

DeForest Hicks

Class of 1896.

DeForest Hicks was born October 30, 1875, at Summit, New Jersey. He was a son of William Cleveland Hicks, a graduate from Trinity College in the Class of 1848, and his wife, Emily Norwood DeForest. The father was a Patent Expert, and from 1862 to 1874 was a Lecturer at the College on Civil and Mechanical Engineering. Other members of the family who have been associated with the College are James Milnor Hicks of the Class of 1854, George Cleveland Hicks of the Class of 1856, the Rev. William Cleveland Hicks, of the Class of 1891, a brother, and William Cleveland Hicks, Jr. a nephew, a Junior in College.

Mr. Hicks was prepared for College at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, and entered Trinity College in September, 1892, with the Class of 1896.

He was active in student affairs. He was a member of the Track Team; a member of the Mandolin and Banjo Clubs. He was an Editor of the Tablet in 1893-1894, and Managing Editor from 1894 to 1896. He was an Associate Editor of two volumes brought out by undergraduates entitled Trinity Sketches and Trinity Verse. He was a member of the Beta Beta Chapter of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

After graduation with the degree of B. A. in 1896, Mr. Hicks was a Master at St. Paul's School for a year. The next year (1897-98), he tutored boys for College at Vineyard Haven, Massachusetts. In 1898, he entered the Office of the Western Electric Company in New York, and was Chief Clerk till 1902. From 1902 to 1904, he was Manager of the Philadelphia Office of the Company, and in 1904 was appointed Assistant Treasurer.

In this year, he gave up his connection with the General Electric Company to enter the bond business, and in 1906, he formed a partnership with his classmate, Murray H. Coggeshall to engage in a general banking and brokerage business. The firm showed more than usual enterprise and constructive ability and prospered.

Mr. Hicks was stricken with pneumonia in December, 1919, and while on his way to Atlantic City for a rest during his convalescence, died of heart failure in the Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad in New York City.

He was a member of the Society of Colonial Wars; a member of the St. Nicholas Society and President of the St. Nicholas Club; a member of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club, the Baltusral Golf Club, the University Club, the Church Club, and the University Barge Club of Philadelphia. He was a Trustee of the Park Hospital and was Treasurer of the Peninsula Telephone Company. He wrote many financial articles, some of which were published by his firm, and some of which were printed in the Times Annalist. He was an Episcopalian, and much interested in the affairs of St. James Church, New York. He served as a Private in Company K, of the Seventh Regiment from 1893 to 1898.

October 8, 1909, Mr. Hicks married Miss Nancy Benedict in Emmanuel Church, Athens, Georgia. Miss Benedict was a daughter of Samuel Caldwell Benedict, M. D., and Anne Rodgers Bloomfield, his wife. Dr. Benedict was Professor of Medical Jurisprudence in the University of Georgia. The Benedict family, though resident in Athens, was originally from Hartford, Connecticut.

His genial personality, his integrity of character and warm-hearted sympathy, commanded the love and respect of all associated with him, and in his death the College loses a loyal and worthy son.

Edward Delavan Nelson Schulte

Class of 1897.

Edward Delavan Nelson Schulte was born in Utica, New York, November, 3 1877, a son of the Rev. Bernard Schulte, and his wife, Julia Low Nelson. The Rev. Bernard Schulte was graduated from Hobart College in 1870, and from the Berkeley Divinity School in the Class of 1873. In 1894 he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Hobart. Hermann von Wechlinger Schulte, M. D., of the Class of 1897, was a brother. Other relatives who have graduated from Trinity are the Rt. Rev. Richard Henry Nelson, of the Class of 1880; his son, Richard MacDonald Nelson, of the Class of 1911; and Charles E. Gostenhofer, of the Class of 1905.

Mr. Schulte was prepared for College at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire, and entered Trinity College with the Class of 1897. He was a member of the Delta Psi Fraternity, and was graduated with the degree of B. S. in 1897.

After graduation he entered the Graduate School of Columbia University, and in 1899 received the degrees of E. E. and M. A. In the year 1900-1901 he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a Draftsman. During the year 1901-1902, he worked with William Lisperard Robb, Professor of Physics at Trinity, who was also a consulting engineer. In 1902, Professor Robb was called to the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute as Professor of Electrical Engineering, and Mr. Schulte went to Rensselaer with him. For some years before his death, he held full professorial rank.

He was a member of the Scientific Honorary Society of Sigma Xi, of the Engineering Society of Tau Beta Pi, of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, of the American Physical Society, of the Society of Engineers of Eastern New York, and of the American Society for the Advancement of Science. In politics he was an independent Republican, and was a communicant of the Episcopal Church.

June 21, 1913, at Riverside, Connecticut, he married Elsie Beltz, daughter of Frederick Beltz, a lawyer of New York City, and his wife Louisa Hall.

Professor Schulte died April 20, 1920, at his home in Troy, New York, and was buried at Greenwich, Connecticut.

William Hyde Warner

Class of 1899.

Word has been received of the death of William Hyde Warner, who was for three years a member of the Class of 1899. He was a son of the Reverend George Russell Warner, sometimes Rector of St. Thomas's Church in Hartford. The family removing to Aspen, Colorado, Mr. Warner entered Colorado College and was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1902. He received the same degree at Yale University in 1904, after having taught a year at Morristown, New Jersey.

No account has reached the College of his work since 1904, nor has the date of his death been ascertained. It is hoped that a fuller account may be presented later.

Aubrey Darrell Vibbert

Class of 1899.

Aubrey Darrell Vibbert was born in Germantown, Pennsylvania, July 9, 1879. He was a son of the Rev. Dr. William H. Vibbert, a graduate of Trinity College in the Class of 1858, for fifty years Vicar of Trinity Chapel, New York, and long a Trustee of the College, who died in 1918. His mother was Julia Newbold Welsh, of Philadelphia. Many of Mr. Vibbert's relatives are numbered among the alumni of the College. His grandfather, the Reverend William H. Vibbert, D. D., received the honorary degree of Master of Arts in 1850; the Reverend Thomas Stanley Judd, '32, was a great uncle; George A. Vibbert, '64, Howard C. Vibbert, '66, and William Drayton, '67, were uncles; William W. Vibbert, '94, was a brother; and John Strawbridge, '95, and Robert F. Welsh, '95, are cousins.

Mr. Vibbert was prepared for College at the Berkeley School, New York City, and entered Trinity in September, 1895, with the Class of 1899. He was a member of the Delta Psi Fraternity, and was active in student affairs. He was a substitute on the football and baseball teams; Manager of the baseball team in 1898; a member of the Glee and Mandolin Clubs; of the College Choir; President of the Athletic Association; a member of the Sophomore Dining Club and of Medusa. He was Presenter of Mementos on Class Day. In scholarship he made an excellent record, attaining Phi Beta Kappa rank, and taking the Chemical Prize in 1898. He was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1899.

From 1899 to 1906, he was with the Great Northern Railway in the Operating and Accounting Departments. From 1906 to 1914, he was with Mather and Company, Insurance Brokers of New York; and from 1914 to his death he was engaged independently in the Insurance business in New York.

In September, 1916, he was at the Plattsburg Training Camp, and was subsequently a Sargeant in the 9th Coast Artillery Corps of the New York Guard.

In 1917, Mr. Vibbert published a booklet entitled The Plattsburg Military Training Camp. A Description in Detail of the Life there, with Advice to the Prospective Rookie.

January 15, 1919, he married Mrs. Katarina S. Blake (née Suse), daughter of Frederick E. Suse, a foreign exchange broker of New York, and his wife Leontine C. Sauer.

On the evening of December 24, 1919, while waiting for a train at Mott Haven Station of the New York Central Railroad, Mr. Vibbert was seized with an attack of vertigo, and fell under the wheels of a passing train, being killed instantly. The funeral service was held in Trinity Chapel, and the burial was in the family plot at Germantown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Vibbert was a member of the St. Anthony Club, the University Club, the Knickerbocker Club, the Staten Island Cricket and Tennis Club, the Oakland Golf Club, and was a Trustee of the House of Mercy, New York City. He was a communicant of the Episcopal Church and was a Democrat.

Edward Bruce Goodrich

Class of 1902.

Edward Bruce Goodrich was born February 13, 1880, in Lancaster, New Hampshire. He was a son of the late Rev. James Brainard Goodrich of Concord, New Hampshire, a graduate of Trinity College in the Class of 1865. Mr. Goodrich was graduated from Trinity College with the degree of B. A. in 1902. He was President of the Athletic Association in his Senior year, and was a member of the Beta Beta Chapter of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, as was his father.

After graduation he entered the shop of the Sullivan Manufacturing Company to study the manufacture of mining machinery. After two years, he became the Southern Salesman of the Company, and had his headquarters first at Greensboro, North Carolina, and later at Knoxville, Tennessee. In 1907 he entered the employ of the Travelers Insurance Company as a clerk, through the influence of his brother-in-law, Louis F.

Butler, now President. After a time, he was assigned as Special Agent to the Office at Manchester, New Hampshire. He had charge subsequently of branches in Washington, D. C., and in Denver, Colorado. In 1911 he was called to the Hartford Office as Liability Underwriter, and in 1916 was made an Assistant Secretary in the Liability Department. He was a specialist in basic rate making in this department, and was unusually expert and efficient.

Mr. Goodrich married in December, 1905, Miss Harriet W. Brady, of Albany, New York. There were no children.

Mr. Goodrich died of pneumonia in Hartford, February 8, 1920.

Edgar Augustus Sheldon

Class of 1902.

Edgar Augustus Sheldon was born in Rensselaer Falls, New York, May 8, 1877, a son of Orange M. and Harriet E. Sheldon. The father is engaged in the insurance business in Chateaugay, New York.

Mr. Sheldon received his training for College in the Schools of Chateaugay, and entered St. Lawrence University. After spending two years there, he entered the Junior Class of Trinity College, graduating with the degree of B. S. in 1902. At Trinity, he was a member of the I. K. A. Fraternity.

After graduation he taught in various schools and as a private tutor. He taught at the National Preparatory Academy, Highland Falls, New York, and in public and private schools in New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, Boston, Morristown, New Jersey, and Ridgefield, Connecticut. Mr. Sheldon was a Republican and an active worker in the Episcopal Church. In February, 1918, Mr. Sheldon was stricken with pneumonia, and though he recovered, yet his health was destroyed. After months of illness, he died July 29, 1918, at Chateaugay, New York, and was buried there.

Mr. Sheldon was a man of promise, whose wholesome personality endeared him to all who knew him.

Philip Thomas Kennedy

Class of 1905.

Philip Thomas Kennedy was born in Hartford, Connecticut, June 28, 1883, a son of Philip Slattery Kennedy, a merchant of Hartford, and his wife Mary Moran.

He received his preparation for College at the Hartford Public High School, and was admitted to Trinity College in September, 1901, with the Class of 1905. In College, he was a member of the Tau Alpha Chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. He was graduated with the degree of B. A. in June, 1905.

In September following his graduation, he entered the Harvard Medical School, graduating with the degree of M. D. in 1909. After graduation from the Medical School, he spent sixteen months as Medical House Officer in the Boston City Hospital; three months in the Providence Lying-In Hospital, and was Resident Physician for two seasons in the Boston Floating Hospital.

In October, 1911, Dr. Kennedy began practice in Hartford, specializing in Pediatrics. He was Pediatrist at St. Francis Hospital and at St. Agnes Home. He was on the Staff of the Babies' Hospital and Visiting Physician to the Home for Crippled Children.

Dr. Kennedy was a Medical Inspector for the Hartford Board of Health; a Committeeman of the North West School District; and during the War served on the Civilian Relief Committee of the American Red Cross. He was a member of the American Medical Association, of the Hartford County Medical Association, and of the Hartford Medical Society. He was a member of the Get-Together Club; of the University Club; and of the Knights of Columbus. He was a devout communicant of the Roman Catholic Church.

June 17, 1914, Dr. Kennedy married Anne St. Lawrence Clary, daughter of William Clary, an engineer of Hartford, and his wife Margaret St. Lawrence. There were two children: Philip Clary, born May 11, 1915, and William St. Lawrence, born January 24, 1917.

Dr. Kennedy died at St. Francis Hospital, February 14, 1920, and was buried at Mt. St. Benedict Cemetery. Some two months before, he underwent an operation for an abscess on the lungs, but when a second operation was found necessary, he failed to rally. His untimely death brought to a close a promising career in his chosen field of service.

Louis Bayard Pike

Class of 1908.

Louis Bayard Pike was born in New Haven, Connecticut, March 14, 1875, a son of George Pike, later of Hartford.

Mr. Pike was a non-matriculated student at Trinity College during the year 1908-1909. He was engaged in business as a druggist at 705 Main Street, Hartford.

In June, 1898, he married Bessie M. Fenn, of Plainville, daughter of Apollos Fenn and Amanda Clark. Mr. Fenn was Jailer of the Hartford County Jail. There were two children: Elizabeth A., born November 22, 1902, and Louis F., born September 4, 1906.

Mr. Pike died in Hartford, May 7, 1913, and was buried in Plainville, Connecticut, where his family reside. He was a member of the Masonic Order.

Robert Ingleson

Class of 1912.

Robert Ingleson was born in Hoboken, New Jersey, May 31, 1890, a son of Isaac Ingleson and his wife, Ambrosine Jowett. The father is engaged in the lumber business in Hoboken.

Mr. Ingleson was prepared for College at Trinity Chapel School, New York City, and entered Trinity College in September, 1908, remaining only one year. He was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

In September, 1912, Mr. Ingleson entered the service of the Funch, Edge Company, Steamship Agents, in New York.

He died December 15, 1912, and was buried in Flower Hill Cemetery, North Bergen, New Jersey.

Edwin Pond Parker

Class of 1912 (Honorary)

Edwin Pond Parker, the venerated Pastor of the Second Church of Christ (Congregational) of Hartford, received the honorary degree of LL. D. at the Commencement in 1912. Two of his sons were graduated from Trinity: Burton in the Class of 1893, and Robert Prescott in the Class of 1894.

Edwin Pond Parker was born at Castine, Maine, January 13, 1836, a son of Wooster and Wealthy Ann (Pond) Parker. The father was a Congregational Minister of Belfast, Maine, though he was born at Saybrook, Connecticut, and was a descendent of William Parker, an original Proprietor of Hartford. Mr. Parker's mother, Wealthy Ann Pond, was a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Enoch Pond of Bangor, Maine.

Dr. Parker was prepared for College at the Academy at Foxcroft, Maine. He was graduated from Bowdoin College with Honors in 1856. After graduation he entered the Bangor Theological Seminary, graduating in 1859.

In the autumn of 1869, Dr. Parker accepted a call to become Pastor of the Second Congregational Church in Hartford, and was ordained January 11, 1860, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Walter Clark. Dr. Parker served the Church faithfully and effectively for fifty-two years, becoming Pastor Emeritus March 31, 1912. During the rest of his life, he held that relation to the Church. Dr. Parker was a friend of the Rev. Dr. Horace Bushnell, and may in a sense be regarded as of his "school." Perhaps no minister of the Congregational Church since Dr. Bushnell's time has had more influence in shaping its ideals and theological views.

Dr. Parker was much interested in Church music, in fact in all affecting public worship, and composed a number of excellent hymns, besides editing several hymn books for church and Sunday-school use.

He prepared an elaborate Historical Discourse on the occasion of the celebration in 1870 of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Founding of the Second Church, and wrote a full and valuable History of the Church. Dr. Parker published among other works The Ministry of Natural Beauty; Sermons on Domestic Duties; A Historical Discourse On the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Missionary Society of Connecticut; The Hartford Central Association and the Bushnell Controversy. He was in much demand as a lecturer on literary and historical subjects, and wrote and spoke in a finished style with a wealth of reference and quotation of the best of English literature.

From 1895 to 1919, Dr. Parker was a member of the Yale Corporation, rendering valuable service in a period of rapid change and development. He was Chaplain of the Connecticut Legislature for several years, and gave valuable service as a member of the High School Committee of Hartford.

Dr. Parker was twice married: first, November 1, 1859, at Bangor, Maine, to Lucy M. Harris, who died April 11, 1894; and second, July 9, 1895, to Mrs. Laura A. Gilbert of Hartford, who died December 11, 1917. Lucy M. Harris was a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Harris, of Bangor, Maine, Professor in the Bangor Theological Seminary. Later he was President of Bowdoin College, and still later Professor of Theology in the Yale Divinity School.

The children were Harris, a merchant of Hartford, born in 1860, whose daughter Ruth Stanton, married Charles H. Baker, Jr., a member of the Class of 1916 at Trinity; Lily Pond married in 1892 Morris Penrose; Lewis Darling, married in 1891, Carrie Isable Knaus, Vice-President of the Billings and Spencer Company of Hartford; Mary Elizabeth, married February 1, 1893, Frederick C. Billings, President of the Billings and Spencer Company; Burton, Trinity '93, married in 1900, Miss Mildred Breslyn of Buffalo, New York, and is export Manager of the Billings and Spencer Company; and Robert Prescott, Trinity '94, married in 1891, Ruth Whitmore, and died in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, in 1917.

Dr. Parker died May 28, 1920, greatly mourned and greatly honored.

Albert James Emmanuel Draper

Class of 1913.

Albert James Emmanuel Draper was born November 27, 1891, a son of Ebenezer Draper, of New York City. He was prepared for College at Trinity Chapel School, and entered Trinity with the Class of 1913, remaining only one year. A brother, George William Eugene Draper, was for a time a member of the Class of 1910; both were members of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Mr. Draper was married, but no account of him or of his work after leaving College has been obtained. He died in October, 1918.

It is hoped that a fuller account may be printed later.

Alfred Brooks Lister

Class of 1914.

Obit pro Patria

Alfred Brooks Lister was born in Germantown, Philadelphia, on September 24, 1893. He was the only child of William Henry Lister, an artist of Philadelphia, and his wife, Mary Harvey.

After graduation from the Central High School in Philadelphia, he entered Trinity College in September, 1910, as a member of the Class of 1914. He distinguished himself as a student, standing high in his class. He was a member of the baseball team, and was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity.

Mr. Lister desired to become an Architect; so he entered the School of Architecture at the University of Pennsylvania, graduating with Honors in 1915. He then entered the office of Horace Trumbauer, an Architect of Philadelphia, remaining there till he entered military service in 1917.

He was a member of the first Officers' Training Camp at Fort Niagara, and was commissioned First Lieutenant. He was at Camp Mead, Maryland, till July, 1918, when he went overseas with the Company B of the 110th Machine Gun Battalion in the 79th Division. His Division went over the top on September 25, 1918. On the evening of the 27th, Lieutenant Lister was out with a reconnoitering party. The order for the return had been given when he was shot from behind by a German sniper. This was at Montfaucon in the Argonne. Though his case was hopeless, because of his having been hit in the spinal column, he reached the Hospital for American Officers at Vittel in the Vosges, where he died on October 7th and was buried.

Brooks Lister was a man of singularly pleasing personality. In the year he spent at Trinity, he greatly endeared himself to all who knew him, and the news of his death brought grief and a sense of personal loss to many. He was a member of the T-Square Club, the Sketch Club, the Cricket Club, and of other social organizations of Philadelphia. He was a communicant of the Church of St. Martin in the Field, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

George Damon Storrs

Class of 1917.

George Damon Storrs was born in New Britain, Connecticut, November 26, 1892, a son of Samuel Porter Storrs and his wife Alice Gray Damon. The father was for many years a well-known druggist in New Britain, dying in 1916, while his son was still in College.

Mr. Storrs was prepared for College at the Manor School in Stamford, Connecticut, and at the New Britain High School. Before coming to Trinity, he spent a year at the John B. Stetson University, DeLand, Florida. He entered Trinity in September, 1913, and was graduated with the degree of B. A. in June, 1917. He was a good student in College, specializing in French, German, and English.

After graduation he taught Modern Languages for a time in the Westchester Military Academy at Peekskill, New York, but ill health compelled him to abandon the work.

He died September 19, 1919, at the home of his mother in New Britain, and is buried in Fairview Cemetery there.

Mr. Storrs was a devout communicant of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in New Britain. He was an acolyte, taught a Sunday School class, was a member of the St. Vincent's Guild, and of the Men's Club.

I N D E X

Class		Page
1864	Atkinson, Jerome Gill, M. D.	10
1855	Bolles, The Rev. Professor Edwin Cortlandt, D. D., Ph. D., LL. D.	5
1878	Deuel, Jay Clarence	15
1913	Draper, Albert James Emmanuel	30
1871	Drayton, William	14
1902	Goodrich, Edward Bruce	25
1892	Hall, Clarence Loines	20
1872	Harris, The Rev. William James, D. D.	14
1896	Hicks, DeForest	21
1856	Hicks, George Cleveland	6
1891	Hicks, The Rev. William Cleveland	19
1912	Ingleson, Robert	28
1905	Kennedy, Philip Thomas, M. D.	26
1914	Lister, Alfred Brooks	30
1856	MacMillan, Hamilton	7
1881	Mason, Alexander Taylor	16
1884	Owen, Frank William	18
1912	Parker, The Rev. Edwin Pond, LL.D.	28
1908	Pike, Louis Bayard	27
1880	Rodgers, Wellington James	16
1897	Schulte, Professor Edward Delavan Nelson	23
1857	Scott, Eben Greenough	8
1902	Sheldon, Edgar Augustus	26
1917	Storrs, George Damon	31
1861	Sturges, John Burr	10
1869	Swift, Rev. Henry	12
1899	Vibbert, Aubrey Darrell	24
1864	Vibbert, George Alden	11
1899	Warner, William Hyde	24